

EDITORIAL

As this, our final issue as Editors goes to print, we would like to take this opportunity to thank you, the readers and contributors to Education in Rural Australia for your interest and support over the many years we have been editing the journal. Without your commitment to issues of rural education we would not have been able to sustain this publication.

In addition, thanks to all who have served on the Editorial Board during our tenure as Editors. You have been a tremendous support to our work, and we have valued the skill and candour you brought to your work as reviewers and sounding boards. And to past editors while we have been working with the journal, Don Squires and Myra Dunn, our thanks for their collegiality.

To all who have reviewed for the journal over the years, we could not have published the high quality work that we have endeavoured to without your insight, commitment to the professional learning of all authors who submit, and professional and timely feedback to authors. In particular, we would like to acknowledge that work of Ros Brennan Kemmis, Deb Clarke, Geoff Danaher, Patrick Danaher, Graham Daniel, Sue Dockett, Milena Dunn, Michael Gard, Kristina Gottschall, Annette Green, Louise Hard, Wendy Hastings, Brian Hemmings, Julie Hollitt, Sally Knipe, Hope Longwell-Grice, Noella MacKenzie, Cathryn McConaghy, Beverley Moriarty, Zeffie Nicholas, Matti Novak, Bob Perry, Stephen Relf, Andrea Reupert, Peter Rushbrook, Tracey Smith, Richard Taffe, Vickie Vance, Jane Wilkinson, Stephen Winn, Stuart Woodcock, and Lucie Zundans. Thanks to you all for your efforts on behalf of Education in Rural Australia.

We wish the very best to the incoming Editorial team, and we again thank you for your patience, support and readership over the past nine years.

Will Letts & Tracey Simpson